HEARTS COURAGEOUS

Copyright, 1932, by The Brown-Merrill Company

He started uncontrollably as he read it and made a gesture of despair. "Le bon Dieu!" he cried, his eyes filling with tears. "Unfortunate that I am! I have helped him to die!" Then she dropped forward into Pilgrime's arms.

"Clang!" The great bell in the dome above spoke suddenly. Dickinson, with an exclamation, went out hastily, the other delegates with him. The single remaining spectator approached the spot where Pilgrime knelt, chafing Anne's hands.

The Frenchman said no word, but he got upon his feet with such a look in his face that Joseph Galloway, his head bent down, went out slinking and with speed, like a whipped cur.

"Clang!" The sound rang out again, and with its music mixed a vast roar of voices that penetrated from the streets. "Clang!" Another brazen throat took it up, and "They sign! They sign!" came in a shout that shook the building.

"Clash! Clash!" All the steeples in Philadelphia were shouting to one another now. The great thundering was accomplished. That hour a nation was born—out of the clamor of bells, out of the hearts of men.

But in the statehouse under the cupola, where the big bell that first pealed liberty cracked its throat for joy, Anne lay sobbing.

"Louis! Listen, Louis! Listen to the bells! It was yours—a message that I gave them! Independence! It is come at last, and you have gone to die because I betrayed you. But it was to save you, dear! Will you ever understand? Can you hear them, Louis? The bells! Come back! Come back to me—only to hear them ring! Only to understand!"

General Lord Howe sat one evening a month later aboard the Duchess of Gordon, anchored below Staten Island, playing at draughts. His late surrender of Boston to General Washington had ruffled his equanimity. But now Clinton had joined him, haggard from the trouncing Moultrie had given him in South Carolina, and his lordship's brother, Admiral Lord Howe, had hove to in the harbor with a prodigious new army in a fleet of 120 sail. My lord, therefore, felt very comfortable again.

The general's opponent at the table, Lord Chetwynde, wore lace in his sleeves and smoked a foreign cigarette, from which he flicked the white ash daintily with his little finger. As he sat, one felt his eyes, a kind of cold, keen, speculative humor in them. Another officer, Sir Evelyn Clarke, sat with legs wide apart near by. The glazed sconces were brilliantly lighted, and the room rocked pleasantly as the ship rose and fell to the wash.

An aid, pausing at the cabin door, saluted.

"Well?" asked Lord Howe. "Any one else for me?"

"No, sir; for Lord Chetwynde. He brings a personal communication to his lordship."

"Very well; bring him down; with your permission, of course, my lord." And his lordship turned to the game again.

Social Side of Life

A very pretty luncheon was given on Tuesday last by Mrs. Sanford B. Dole at her summer home, "Aqua Marine," Diamond Head, for Miss Nannie Winston of Richmond, Virginia, who has been a guest at the Moana Hotel for the past winter.

The table was artistically decorated with native leaves and grasses, and the charming sea view was a picture in itself. Among the guests were Mrs. Emerson, Mr. W. Allen, Mrs. S. M. Parker, Mrs. F. M. Hatch, Miss Allen, Mrs. Mays, Miss Kaufman and Miss Dole.

A New York magazine says some very pleasant things about the wife of Philip Lydig, who was so well known here in the past. They say that no one ever uses anything but superlatives in speaking of Mrs. Philip Lydig. She is the most beautiful, the most fascinating; she is the most demurely coquettish; she is the most charmingly captivating woman in New York fashionable life; she has the most extensive wardrobe of the most expensive gowns in all America, and she wears them in the most effective manner;—all this is what her admirers say, and it would appear that all her acquaintances feel the same into admirers.

Mrs. Lydig is still abroad, though her return is imminent. She is accumulating more wonderful gowns for the summer season with which to dazzle Newport. The Lydigs have rented "Arleigh" in the City-by-the-Sea, and there Mrs. Lydig will dispense that gracious hospitality that makes her the most admirable of hostesses.

No one ever dreams of declining a Lydig invitation—rather than do that we would break half a dozen "previous engagements," and it is because of this that every woman does not enthrone over Mrs. Lydig as so many of them do.

A very delightful supper was given on Wednesday evening by Mrs. F. M. Hatch in honor of Captain and Mrs. Niles, at Sans Souci. The table was charmingly decorated with the Mexican creper and maidenhair ferns and tall silver candlesticks with green shades added a cool and pleasing effect. Among the guests were Admiral and Mrs. Glass, Mrs. Schwerin, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ballou, Miss Nannie Winston, Governor Cleghorn, Hon. S. M. Damon, Mr. John H. Bliss, Miss Jennie Walker, Mr. George Post, Mrs. Walbridge and Col. MacClennan.

The American Travesty Company at the Orpheum has been a perfect boon to the theater lovers during this week. The house has been so completely filled that seats had to be booked days ahead.

Miss Amber is a very attractive girl and sings her songs with much spirit. Her frocks are wonderfully becoming and she is chic from the crown of her head to the sole of her foot. Mr. Blake is a rare comedian and is possessed of much magnetism.

Miss Sutherland's dancing is admirable, and she would be a great attraction anywhere. Dill, Kolb and Bernard have made a great hit and are most amusing. The whole company, pretty chorus girls and all, are far above the average.

We hope the success of this company will induce more first-class attractions to "follow on."

The spacious lawn attached to the residence of Captain and Mrs. Andrew Miller was gay with flags and signal bunting on Wednesday afternoon in honor of an "At Home" given by Mrs. Andrew Miller for Mrs. Henry Glass, Mrs. R. P. Schwerin and Mrs. Philip Andrews, formerly pretty Clara Fuller. The guests were received at the top of the stairs by Mrs. Byron Baird, who looked very charming in pink and white and were then conducted to the receiving party on the lawn. A bank of calla lilies and peonies formed an effective background for the handsome frocks of Mrs. Fuller and the guests of honor. A lawn party is particularly delightful in our climate, and on Wednesday the day was simply perfect for an occasion of that kind. On the lawn Mrs. Mary Gunn presided over the punchbowl. She looked exceedingly attractive in a simple frock of embroidered Chinese linen. A bevy of pretty girls passed delicious refreshments and bouquets of pink roses and ferns made the drawing room fragrant with perfume. A detachment from the cruiser New York band played through out the afternoon. Among those present were Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Admiral and Mrs. Terry, Captain and Mrs. J. O. Carter, Mrs. James Spencer, Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mrs. Clive Davies, Mrs. George Davis, Mrs. W. Hall, Mrs. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. E. Freeth, Mrs. S. M. Parker, Mrs. Marx, Mrs. Wesley Hamilton, Mrs. Schaefer, Mrs. Waterhouse, Mrs. Lackland, Mrs. Halstead, Mrs. E. Jones, Mrs. Benson, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Lake, Miss Helen Wilder, Miss Schaefer, the Misses Walker, Miss Hadon, Miss Kaufman, Miss Jennie Giffard, Misses Macfarlane, Mrs. George Macfarlane, Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Mrs. Clifford Wood, Mrs. Sidney Ballou, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Miss Frances Gillet, Mrs. McGrew, Mrs. Charles Cooper, Mrs. Archie Young, Miss Stansbury, Mrs. Widdifield, Miss Winnifred Dole, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Christian Hedeman, Mrs. Dougherty, Mrs. Robertson, Bishop and Mrs. Reslarick, Doctor and Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. Willie Allen, Miss Allen, Mrs. Hobron, Mrs. A. Humphreys, Mrs. Raas, Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Holliday, Mrs. Fred Smith, Miss Alice Campbell, the Misses Carter, Mrs. Babbitt, Mrs. Walbridge, Miss Saito, Miss MacIntyre, Madame Miki Saito, Mrs. McCandless, and many others.

Admiral and Mrs. Terry entertained at dinner on Tuesday evening in honor of Admiral and Mrs. Glass. Their guests were Captain and Mrs. Niles, Mrs. Schwerin, Mrs. Walbridge, Mrs. Terry, Governor Cleghorn, Captain Niholsson and Mr. Hay.

Last evening the band of the cruiser New York gave a complimentary concert at the Moana Hotel followed by a most successful dance. The dancing rooms and the lawn were crowded and everybody had a jolly good time.

There were many dinner parties on that evening. Among those who entertained were Admiral and Mrs. Glass, Doctor and Mrs. Humphris, Mr. John H. Bliss and Mr. George Bliss. The Moana is admirably adapted for an informal dance, and the long walk to the bridge is always much appreciated by the older as well as the younger element.

Captain and Mrs. Glen-Collins have given up their tour of the world for the present owing to the many facial injuries sustained by Mrs. Glen-Collins resulting from her driving accident. Mrs. Glen-Collins was formerly the beautiful Natalie Schenck, a member of New York's most exclusive set, and one of the best liked girls there. She married not long ago Captain Glen-Collins, an officer in the Queen's own Cameron Highlanders. Captain and Mrs. Glen-Collins are charmed with Honolulu and regret very much their short visit in our midst. Captain Glen-Collins is an expert polo player, and his wife is also a first-class sportsman. They may sail today or Sunday for the Coast.

The concert to be given at the residence of Doctor and Mrs. Charles Cooper next week, Thursday evening, in aid of St. Andrew's Cathedral ought to be a great success with the list of artists who will help. First and foremost is Mrs. Annie Montague Turner, always a great favorite, and her two pupils, Miss Alice Campbell and Mr. Lou Kaulakou will be held in pleasing selections. There are a host of others who will do all they can to make the evening successful.

The big lulu, fair and dance at Progress Hall, given by the Naniola Club for the poor and homeless, proved to be a great financial success. Mrs. Theresa Wilcox was the moving spirit in the affair and sold over five hundred tickets herself. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Maria Beckley Kakea, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Colburn, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Nottley and Mrs. Drake. For the dancing Solomon's Quintet Club furnished music.

One of the prettiest "pedro" parties of the season was given by Mrs. H. Wingate Lake, in the mauka ball room of the Alexander Young Hotel, in honor of Mrs. Spilvalo and Miss Spilvalo. The room was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Camp and Mr. Ernest Parker. Bunting in the Italian colors was artistically draped across the room, and large hearts in black and red were suspended by ribbons from the chandeliers. Chrysanthemums, coccodrilli, la France roses, palms, ferns and the passion vine were all used in the decorations with most pleasing effect. The ball room was literally transformed for the occasion into a bower of beauty by the artistic fingers of Mrs. Camp and Mr. Parker. Two huge punchbowls with the famous punch of the hotel were very well patronized throughout the afternoon. There were about fifty tables in all, and when the game was ended the prizes were awarded as follows: First prize, a handsome Japanese purse, Princess Kawanakao; second prize, a genuine ivory fan, Mrs. Emmet May; consolation prize, cut glass vase, Miss Louise Bradley. While the refreshments were being served the Ellis Quintet Club sang and played. Mrs. Spilvalo looked very handsome and distinguished in a French frock of cream lace and silk. Miss Spilvalo looked exceedingly lovely in a charming frock of mull and lace. Mrs. Lake was very chic in white muslin and lace, her sash of three colors adding a pretty touch. Among the guests were Mrs. McGrew, Mrs. Charles Cooper, Mrs. W. R. Farrington, Mrs. Archie Young, Miss Frances Gillet, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. J. O. Carter, Princess Kawanakao, Mrs. S. M. Parker, Misses Bradley, Miss Alice Campbell, Mrs. Cunha, Miss Rose Cunha, Mrs. Beckley, Miss Beckley, Mrs. Camp, Mrs. A. Humphreys, Mrs. Riggs, Mrs. Emmet May, Mrs. Dougherty, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Hawes, Mrs. J. K. Brown, Mrs. Gignoux, Mrs. Willie Lewis, Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. Mead, Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Wesley Hamilton, Misses Angus, Mrs. Angus, Mrs. Freeth, Mrs. McCrossen, Miss McCrossen, Mrs. Percy Benson, Miss Benson, Miss Stansbury, Mrs. Clarence Crabbe, Miss Lishman, Mrs. Violet Kakea, Mrs. High, Mrs. Highton, and many others.

Governor Cleghorn was "At Home" informally to about forty friends on Thursday afternoon at beautiful Alahou. During the afternoon Mrs. Geo. Macfarlane favored the company with music. Tea was served at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Jaeger received for Mr. Cleghorn.

Mrs. Richard Ivers gave a lunch on Friday afternoon at her home on Hahione street.

Governor Cleghorn is entertaining Admiral and Mrs. Glass and Mrs. Schwerin at tea today and about fifty have been invited to meet them.

We are all delighted to hear about the new golf links at the foot of Maunaloa Valley. Governor and Mrs. Carter are much interested in golf and have done much to interest the public in the game. The new golf links will be easily reached by the Rapid Transit and will be a real boon to the public. Maunaloa is a delightful place but inaccessible to most people on account of the great distance from the town.

The "Mohlcan" is a great favorite in Honolulu. She generally has some delightful officers on board.

High Sheriff Brown has gone to Lahaina for a few days.

Col. Thomas Fitch is now located at San Bernardino, Cal.

The May Festival at the Priory ought to call out a great many people today who have the interest of the Junior Auxiliary at heart.

Queen Liliuokalani is expected here the first of next month.

How does "Acting Governor Jack" sound? Wake up, girls!

The afternoon tea at the residence of Mr. W. W. Hall, Nuuanu avenue, on Wednesday afternoon for the Y. W. C. A. was a great success. The cake table was the center of attraction, and the three pretty brides were much admired. They were Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Mrs. Wesley Hamilton and Mrs. Alexis Gignoux.

The death of Mrs. J. T. McDonald has come like a bolt from a clear sky to her large circle of friends. She was beloved for her sweet, kindly nature, as well as for her charming personality; always ready to help in any good work, she is a great loss to the community as well as to her personal friends, to whom she was like a ray of sunshine. The greatest sympathy is extended to her husband, Dr. McDonald, and to her brother, Mr. Hutchins.

The "Congress of Song", to be held in the Opera House Friday evening, May 27th, will be a distinct innovation, and ought to meet with marked success. The "Children's Contest" will be held on Saturday afternoon, May 28th.

The infant son of Prince and Princess Kawanakao will be christened on Sunday at the St. Augustine Catholic Chapel at Waikiki. He will be Prince David Kakekua. The Princess wishes it understood that those invited to the christening are expected to attend the reception at the Waikiki residence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brown gave a "pedro" party for Judge and Mrs. Galbraith, who expect to sail on the Siberia for the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davies gave a very pleasant dinner on Tuesday evening. The table was prettily decorated in yellow. The centerpiece being of the coccodrilli, and resting on a yellow satin square. Violets placed at intervals in delicate vases made a most artistic contrast, and maidenhair ferns were also used. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Miss Leontyne Hartnagle, Miss Edna Kelley, Mr. Rannie Scott, Mr. Anderson, Miss Terry and Mr. Mason Terry.

Mrs. Schaefer gave a "tea" for Mrs. and Miss Spilvalo on Monday.

The Order of the Eastern Star have issued notices for a special meeting to be held in the Masonic Temple Monday evening to bid farewell to Judge and Mrs. Galbraith. Pedro will be a feature of the evening.

Mrs. J. T. Wayson gave a tea Thursday afternoon for a number of friends at her Beretania street residence.

Mrs. Dr. Augur entertained at a jolly thimble party given at her residence Friday afternoon.
